A LETTER TO YOU

Dear friend,

Somewhere along the way, someone gave you a name. Maybe it was spoken out loud: too much, not enough, the difficult one, the plain one, the one who messed up. Maybe it was never said at all, but you felt it in a look, a silence, a door that closed.

Those names have a way of sticking. We carry them into new jobs, new friendships and new seasons, and we hear them in our heads long after the people who gave them are gone.

This book is a free gift with one purpose: to help you hear a different voice. The God who made you has His own names for you, and they are truer than anything anyone else has ever called you.

Each day takes about ten minutes. We'll walk alongside women of the Bible who were overlooked, shamed, grieving or forgotten, and watch God meet each one by name. You'll read one passage, hold onto one truth, try one small practice, pray and write.

The first week is about being seen. The second is about being forgiven and set free. The third is about being chosen and sent, because God heals your identity and also gives your life a purpose.

You are not who they said you were. Let's go find out who He says you are.

With love,
Elonai

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

The One at the Center

Every page of this book points to one Person. Before Day 1, let's make sure you know Him.

The Bible tells us that God made us to know Him and to rest in Him. But all of us have gone our own way. Scripture calls that sin, and it leaves us separated from God — restless, carrying burdens we were never meant to carry alone.

God didn't leave us there. He sent His Son.

> For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
> JOHN 3:16 · KJV

Jesus lived the life we couldn't live, died on the cross for our sins, and rose again on the third day. He is alive today, and He still says the same words He spoke two thousand years ago:

> Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
> MATTHEW 11:28 · KJV

You can't earn this. You receive it. "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Romans 10:9).

IF YOU WANT TO FOLLOW JESUS, YOU CAN PRAY SOMETHING LIKE THIS

Jesus, I'm tired of carrying everything on my own. I believe You are the Son of God, that You died for my sins and rose again. I turn from my own way and I trust You. Forgive me, fill me with Your Holy Spirit, and be my Lord. Amen.

If you prayed that for the first time, write today's date here: _____ . Then tell someone — a Christian friend, a local church, or our community (see the end of this book). We would love to celebrate with you.

HOW THIS WORKS

Ten minutes. Twenty-one days.

Each day has two pages. The first page is for reading; the second is for responding.

i.

Read

A short reading built around one passage of Scripture and one truth about God.

ii.

Hold one truth

A single sentence to carry with you all day. Short enough to remember at 3 a.m.

iii.

Practice & pray

One small, concrete step for today, and a written prayer you can pray as your own.

iv.

Write it down

An honest question and space to answer. Writing slows racing thoughts and helps you notice God's answers.

The journey

Week One — Seen. The God who made you knows you and has never once overlooked you.
Week Two — Forgiven & Free. Jesus meets women with shame and sends them away whole.
Week Three — Chosen & Sent. A new name, a new purpose and a place in His story.

A TIP THAT MAKES ALL THE DIFFERENCE

People who decide exactly when and where they'll do something are far more likely to follow through. On the next page, choose your time and place — and tie it to something you already do every day, like your morning coffee.

Reading on a phone or tablet? Write your answers in a notebook, or open this PDF in an app like GoodNotes and write right on the page.

MISSED A DAY?

Don't start over and don't feel guilty. Missing a day here and there doesn't undo your progress. Just turn to the next day and keep going. His mercies are new every morning.

WEEK ONE

Seen

Before anyone else had an opinion about you, God had already made you, known you and loved you. This week we meet women who felt invisible, and the God who saw every one of them.

DAYS 1–7

WEEK ONE Day 01 / 21

Made in His Image

Before anyone called you anything, before your first report card or your first heartbreak, God had already said something about you.

> So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.
> GENESIS 1:27 · KJV

The Bible's first chapter is a rhythm of God speaking and creating: light, sky, seas, land, stars, animals. Then the rhythm changes. God says, "Let us make man in our image" (1:26), and for the first time the Bible tells us what He made something to look like: Himself.

"Male and female created he them." Women were not an afterthought. From the very first page, the woman stands alongside the man as an equal bearer of the image of God, fully reflecting something of who He is.

To be made in God's image means you were designed to reflect Him: to love, create, think, choose, rule with kindness and live in relationship. No one else's opinion can give you that dignity, and no one's opinion can take it away. It was stamped on you by your Maker.

On the days you feel ordinary or unimportant, come back to this verse. Your value does not rest on your looks, your accomplishments or your relationship status; it is built into who you are. The first name God ever gave you was mine, made in His image.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 1

My worth was stamped on me by God. No one can erase it.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Look in a mirror today and say out loud: "I am made in the image of God." It may feel strange. Say it anyway.

PRAY

Creator God, thank You for making me in Your image. Forgive me for the times I've treated myself, or others, as worthless. Help me see the dignity You placed in me, and in every woman around me. Teach me to reflect You well. In Jesus' name, amen.

Tomorrow Tomorrow we meet a woman who spent years trying to earn a love that never came, until she found a different place to rest her heart.

WEEK ONE

Day 02 / 21

Unloved, but Not Unseen

She woke up on her wedding morning to find her husband disappointed that it was her.

> And when the LORD saw that Leah was hated, he opened her womb: but Rachel was barren.
> GENESIS 29:31 · KJV

Leah's father tricked Jacob into marrying her instead of her younger sister Rachel, the one Jacob loved. From the start, Leah lived in her sister's shadow, married to a man who wanted someone else. The Bible says plainly that she was "hated," meaning less loved.

But notice the first words of the verse: "When the LORD saw." No one else seemed to see Leah's pain. God did. And He responded with kindness, giving her children. With each son, Leah hoped her husband would finally love her: "now therefore my husband will love me" (29:32).

Then something shifts with her fourth son. She says, "Now will I praise the LORD" (29:35), and she names him Judah, which sounds like the Hebrew word for praise. For the first time, her focus moves from winning Jacob's love to the God who already loved her.

From Judah came King David, and from David's line came Jesus. The unloved woman became part of the family line of the Savior. If you've been overlooked or loved less, God sees it, and He can turn a painful story into a song of praise.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 2

Even when I feel overlooked, the Lord sees me.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write down one place where you've been chasing someone's approval. Then write: "Now will I praise the LORD," and thank Him for one thing.

PRAY

Lord, You saw Leah when no one else did, and You see me too. I've spent so much energy trying to earn love. Help me rest in Yours. Turn my longing into praise, and write my story into Yours. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

Tomorrow A shepherd who became a king wrote a song about how God made him. Tomorrow we read the line many women find hardest to believe.

WEEK ONE Day 03 / 21

Fearfully and Wonderfully Made

You can probably list your flaws in seconds. Can you list what God made beautifully in you?

> For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.
> PSALM 139:13–14 · KJV

Psalm 139 is David's song about how completely God knows him: when he sits, when he rises, his thoughts before he speaks them. There is nowhere he can go where God is not. And then David marvels at how God made him, before he was born, knitting him together in his mother's womb.

"I am fearfully and wonderfully made." Fearfully here means with awe and reverence. Wonderfully means set apart, distinct. God crafted you with care, and David's response is worship: "marvellous are thy works."

Notice the last line: "and that my soul knoweth right well." David knows it deep inside. Many of us know this verse, but we don't know it "right well." We still pick ourselves apart in the mirror.

God does not make mistakes. Your body, personality, gifts and even your story are known by Him. This doesn't mean everything about life is as it should be; we live in a broken world. But you are His marvellous work, not His error.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 3

I am not a mistake. I am God's marvellous work.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write down three things about yourself (body, personality, gifts) that you can thank God for. Thank Him for each one out loud.

PRAY

Father, You knit me together and You know me completely. Forgive me for the ways I've criticized what You made. Help my soul know "right well" that I am fearfully and wonderfully made. I praise You for Your marvellous work. In Jesus' name, amen.

Tomorrow People write important names on their hands so they won't forget. Tomorrow we find out whose name God wrote on His.

WEEK ONE Day 04 / 21

Engraved on His Hands

Have you ever felt forgotten? Not hated, just forgotten, as if your name slipped off everyone's list?

> Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.
> ISAIAH 49:15–16 · KJV

God's people were in exile, far from home, and they said, "The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me" (49:14). God answered with a tender image: a nursing mother. Could a mother forget her baby?

Then He goes further: "yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee." Even the strongest human love can fail, whether it is a mother's, a friend's or a husband's. God's love is the one love that never forgets.

"Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands." Graven means engraved, carved permanently into His hands. Christians have long seen a picture of this love in the risen Jesus, showing His disciples the scars in His hands: a love that keeps its marks.

"Thy walls are continually before me." God sees your life, your home, your struggles, all the time. You are never off His mind. When you feel forgotten, look at the nail-scarred hands of Jesus and remember how far His love went.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 4

I am not forgotten. My name is engraved on God's hands.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write your name on the palm of your hand today. Each time you see it, remember: "He has not forgotten me."

PRAY

Lord, there are days I feel forgotten, by people and even by You. Thank You that You cannot forget me. Thank You for the scars in Jesus' hands that show how far Your love would go. Hold me close when I feel invisible. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

When have I felt most forgotten? What does it mean to me that God says, "I will not forget thee"?

Tomorrow She had been bleeding for twelve years and was considered unclean. Tomorrow Jesus stops a crowd to give her a name.

WEEK ONE Day 05 / 21

Daughter

For twelve years, no one had touched her. Then she touched Him.

> And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
> MARK 5:34 · KJV

She had suffered with bleeding for twelve years. She had "spent all that she had" on doctors and only grown worse (5:26). Under the law, her condition made her ceremonially unclean, which meant years of isolation. She was likely poor, exhausted and alone.

She pushed through a crowd thinking, "If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole" (5:28). She touched His robe and was instantly healed. She could have slipped away unnoticed. But Jesus stopped and asked, "Who touched my clothes?" (5:30).

Jesus wanted to restore her identity as well as heal her body. Trembling, she told Him the whole truth in front of everyone. And Jesus called her something no one had called her in years: "Daughter."

This is the only time in the Gospels Jesus calls an individual woman "daughter." He gave her healing, but He also gave her belonging. Whatever has left you feeling unclean, isolated or ashamed, come to Him. He calls you His own.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 5

Jesus heals me, and He calls me daughter.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Tell Jesus "the whole truth" about something you've kept hidden. Write it down or say it out loud, and listen for His word: "Daughter."

PRAY

Jesus, I've felt unclean, alone and ashamed. I reach out to You today the way she did. Heal what's broken in me, and help me hear You call me daughter. I want to go in peace and be whole. Amen.

What has made me feel isolated or unclean? How does it feel to be called "daughter" by Jesus?

Tomorrow Her name in the Bible was attached to her past for centuries. Tomorrow we find her in a very different list: the heroes of faith.

WEEK ONE Day 06 / 21

Not Too Far Gone

Some people think their past disqualifies them from God's story. Rahab's story says otherwise.

> By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.
> HEBREWS 11:31 · KJV

Rahab lived in Jericho, a city about to fall. She was a prostitute, an outsider in every way: a foreign woman with a scandalous reputation. But when two Israelite spies came to her house, she hid them, because she had heard about the God of Israel and believed. "The LORD your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath" (Joshua 2:11).

She asked for mercy for her family, and they told her to hang a scarlet cord in her window. When Jericho fell, Rahab and everyone in her house were saved (Joshua 6:25).

Centuries later, the writer of Hebrews lists the great heroes of faith: Abraham, Moses, and right among them, Rahab. Her past is still named, but it's no longer the headline. The headline is "by faith."

And the story goes further. Rahab married into Israel and became the great-great-grandmother of King David, part of Jesus' own family line (Matthew 1:5). No one is too far gone for God. Your past is part of your story, but it doesn't have the last word.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 6

My past doesn't disqualify me. Faith writes a new headline.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write down one thing from your past you fear disqualifies you. Then write over it: "By faith."

PRAY

Lord, thank You that You saved Rahab and wrote her into Your family. You know my past, every part of it. I put my faith in You. Write a new headline over my life, and use my story for Your glory. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

Tomorrow We close Week One with a widow and an immigrant who found shelter under wings she couldn't see.

WEEK ONE Day 07 / 21

Under His Wings

She lost her husband, left her country and started over with nothing but a grieving mother-in-law and a promise.

> The LORD recompense thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the LORD God of Israel, under whose wings thou art come to trust.
> RUTH 2:12 · KJV

Ruth was a Moabite widow who refused to leave her mother-in-law, Naomi. She said, "thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God" (1:16). She traveled to Bethlehem, a foreigner with no protection, and went to work gleaning leftover grain in the fields so they wouldn't starve.

The field belonged to Boaz, who noticed her and spoke this blessing over her. He saw what she had done, and he described her choice this way: she had come to trust "under whose wings," the wings of the God of Israel.

The picture is of a mother bird gathering her young under her wings, a place of warmth and safety. Ruth had lost everything familiar. But she had found refuge in God Himself, and He was already providing for her through people she hadn't met yet.

Maybe you're in a season of starting over: a move, a loss, a new chapter you didn't choose. You may feel exposed and unsure. Hear Boaz's blessing as God's word to you today: you have come to trust under His wings. You are sheltered, and He sees your work.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 7

When I've lost what's familiar, I can find shelter under His wings.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Read Psalm 91:1–4 slowly. Each time it mentions shelter or wings, pause and thank God for one way He has protected you.

PRAY

Lord God, I come to trust under Your wings. You know what I've lost and what I'm facing. Shelter me, provide for me, and lead me to the people You've prepared for me. Thank You that You see my work and my heart. In Jesus' name, amen.

WEEK TWO

Forgiven & Free

Shame tells you to hide. Jesus tells you to come. This week we watch Him meet women with painful pasts, and send each of them away forgiven and free.

DAYS 8 – 14

WEEK TWO Day 08 / 21

Living Water

She came to the well at the hottest hour of the day, alone. Scripture doesn't say why, but her story is about to change.

> Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.
> JOHN 4:13–14 · KJV

Women usually drew water in the cool of the morning, together. This Samaritan woman came at noon, alone. John doesn't tell us why, but we soon learn her story: she had been married five times and was living with a man who wasn't her husband (4:18). She may well have been the talk of the town.

Jesus was sitting by the well, and He asked her for a drink. That alone was shocking. Jews didn't speak to Samaritans, and rabbis didn't speak to women like her in public. Then He offered her something better: "living water" that would satisfy a thirst no well could reach.

Jesus gently named her story, not to shame her, but to show He already knew everything and was still offering her life. She had spent years looking for something to fill her, perhaps in relationship after relationship. Jesus was offering the only thing that could.

In the end, the woman who came to the well alone ran back to her town, saying, "Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did" (4:29). Being fully known and fully loved set her free.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 8

Jesus knows everything about me, and He still offers me living water.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Notice what you reach for when you feel empty today (food, phone, approval, shopping). Each time, pause and pray: "Jesus, You are my living water."

PRAY

Jesus, You know everything I've ever done, and You still come to meet me. I've tried to fill my thirst with so many things. Give me the living water only You can give. Set me free from hiding, and let me run to tell others about You. Amen.

Tomorrow She was dragged in front of a crowd, caught in the act. Tomorrow we read what Jesus wrote in the dust, and what He said to her.

WEEK TWO Day 09 / 21

Neither Do I Condemn Thee

Every eye in the courtyard was on her. Every stone was ready. And then the only One without sin knelt down.

> When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.
> JOHN 8:10–11 · KJV

The religious leaders brought a woman caught in adultery and set her in front of a crowd. They weren't interested in justice; they wanted to trap Jesus. (Notice the man involved was nowhere to be found.) The law said she should be stoned. What would He say?

Jesus stooped down and wrote on the ground. Then He stood and said, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her" (8:7). One by one, from the oldest to the youngest, the accusers walked away.

Then Jesus, the only One who had the right to condemn her, said, "Neither do I condemn thee." He didn't pretend her sin was fine. He said, "go, and sin no more." But His first word was mercy, and His mercy came before her change.

Maybe you have accusers in your life, or maybe the loudest accusing voice is in your own head. Jesus is not standing over you with a stone. He's the One who sends the accusers away. His mercy is your starting point, and His grace gives you power to walk in a new direction.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 9

Jesus doesn't throw stones at me. His mercy is my starting point.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write down the accusations you hear in your head. Then cross each one out and write over it: "Neither do I condemn thee."

PRAY

Jesus, thank You that You don't condemn me. I've been accused by others and by my own heart. I receive Your mercy today. Give me grace to go and sin no more, not to earn Your love, but because I already have it. Amen.

JOURNAL

Tomorrow She broke into a dinner party where she wasn't welcome, with tears, hair and perfume. Tomorrow we see why Jesus defended her.

WEEK TWO Day 10 / 21

She Loved Much

Everyone at the table knew who she was. That's why they were so uncomfortable when she knelt at Jesus' feet.

> Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.
> LUKE 7:47–48 · KJV

Jesus was having dinner at the home of Simon, a Pharisee. A woman known in the city as "a sinner" (7:37) came in with an alabaster box of ointment. She stood behind Jesus weeping, washed His feet with her tears, wiped them with her hair, kissed them and poured out the perfume.

Simon thought to himself that if Jesus were really a prophet, He'd know what kind of woman she was (7:39). Jesus did know. And He told Simon a story about two debtors, one who owed a lot and one who owed a little, both forgiven. Which one would love more?

Then Jesus turned toward the woman, while still speaking to Simon, and pointed out everything she had done that Simon, the host, had failed to do. Her lavish love was the response of a heart that knew how much it had been forgiven.

"Thy sins are forgiven." Jesus said it out loud, in front of everyone, so she would never have to wonder. The people who think they need little forgiveness often love God little. But those who know the depth of His mercy can't help pouring out their love.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 10

I have been forgiven much, so I can love much.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Spend five minutes today simply thanking Jesus for specific things He has forgiven in your life. Let it lead you into worship.

PRAY

Jesus, I'm like this woman. I've been forgiven so much. Thank You for saying it clearly: my sins are forgiven. Let my life be a broken alabaster box, poured out in love for You, no matter who's watching. Amen.

JOURNAL

What has Jesus forgiven me for that still amazes me? How do I want to respond with love?

Tomorrow For eighteen years she couldn't stand up straight. Tomorrow Jesus calls her over in the middle of a synagogue service.

WEEK TWO

Day 11 / 21

Loosed

She had spent eighteen years looking at the ground. Then Jesus called her name across the room.

> And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.
> LUKE 13:12–13 · KJV

Jesus was teaching in a synagogue on the Sabbath. In the room was a woman who had been "bowed together" for eighteen years and "could in no wise lift up herself" (13:11). She couldn't look anyone in the eye. She lived bent over, seeing only the floor.

She didn't ask for healing. Jesus saw her and called her to Him. Then He spoke words of release: "thou art loosed." He laid His hands on her, and immediately she stood up straight, and the first thing she did was praise God.

The synagogue leader was angry that this happened on the Sabbath. But Jesus called her "a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound" (13:16), honoring her as a full member of God's family who deserved to be set free.

Many women carry burdens that bend them low: shame, grief, abuse, depression, years of hearing they're not enough. You may not have asked for help in a long time. But Jesus sees you, and He is calling you to Him. He came to loose what has bound you and to lift your head.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 11

Jesus sees what has bent me low, and He calls me to stand up straight.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Stand up straight right now, lift your head and pray: "Jesus, You are the lifter of my head" (Psalm 3:3). Repeat it whenever you feel weighed down today.

PRAY

Jesus, You see what has bent me low for so long. I come when You call. Loose me from what has bound me. Lift my head. Let me stand straight and glorify God, like she did. Amen.

JOURNAL

What has been bending me low? What would it look like to stand up straight in that area?

Tomorrow Tomorrow we read a verse that says God does far more than patch up our old lives.

WEEK TWO Day 12 / 21

A New Creature

Some of us have spent years trying to improve the old version of ourselves. God has a different plan.

> Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.
> 2 CORINTHIANS 5:17 · KJV

Paul knew about having a past. Before he met Jesus, he had hunted down Christians and approved of their deaths. If anyone had reason to be defined by old labels, it was him. Yet he wrote this sentence with total confidence: "if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature."

Paul means a new creation, not a cleaned-up version, and the same language describes what God did in Genesis 1. When you belong to Christ, God does something in you as real as the creation of the world.

"Old things are passed away." The old names, the old guilt and the old verdict have no authority over you anymore. That doesn't mean old habits or memories vanish overnight; growth takes time. But your identity has changed at the root.

"Behold, all things are become new." Paul says behold, look! It's an invitation to see yourself differently. When the old you tries to speak up, you can answer: "That's not who I am anymore. I'm in Christ. I'm new."

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 12

In Christ I am new, not just improved.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write two columns: "Old names" and "New in Christ." Fill in at least three on each side, using Scripture for the new ones.

PRAY

Lord, thank You that in Christ I am a new creation. When old names try to speak, remind me who I am now. Help me live from my new identity, step by step. Behold, You make all things new, including me. In Jesus' name, amen.

Tomorrow Is there anything that could make God stop loving you? Tomorrow Paul gives us a list, and it covers everything.

WEEK TWO Day 13 / 21

Nothing Can Separate

Deep down, many of us carry a fear: one day I'll do something, or be something, that makes God pull His love away.

> For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.
> ROMANS 8:38–39 · KJV

Romans 8 is one of the most hope-filled chapters in the Bible. Paul has already said that God works all things together for good for those who love Him (8:28) and asked, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (8:31). Now he ends with a list designed to cover every possible fear.

Death and life, angels and demonic powers, the present and the future, height and depth, and, just in case, "nor any other creature." Nothing in all creation, and that includes you, can separate you from the love of God in Christ Jesus.

Notice Paul says, "I am persuaded." He had been shipwrecked, beaten, imprisoned and abandoned. His confidence came from knowing the love of God was anchored in Christ, not in his circumstances or performance.

Your bad days, your failures, your doubts and other people's rejection cannot separate you. If you belong to Jesus, His love is a home you live in, not a reward you can lose.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 13

Nothing, not even my worst day, can separate me from God's love.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write your own version of Romans 8:38–39, naming the specific things you fear might separate you. End it with: "...shall be able to separate me from the love of God."

PRAY

Father, I'm so often afraid that I'll lose Your love. Persuade me, like You persuaded Paul, that nothing can separate me from You. Let me live from the security of Your love, not the fear of losing it. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

What do I secretly fear could separate me from God's love? How does this passage answer that fear?

Tomorrow We close Week Two with an exchange God promises to make: ashes for beauty. Tomorrow you'll see what that looks like.

WEEK TWO Day 14 / 21

Beauty for Ashes

In ancient Israel, people in deep grief sat in ashes. God promised to trade them for something beautiful.

> To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.
> ISAIAH 61:3 · KJV

Isaiah 61 describes the work of the Messiah. Jesus read the beginning of this chapter aloud in His hometown synagogue and said, "This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears" (Luke 4:21). This is what Jesus came to do.

Look at the exchanges: beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, a garment of praise for a spirit of heaviness. Ashes were a sign of grief and loss. God replaces them with beauty, like a crown placed where the ashes were.

And then He gives His people a new name: "trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD." Not victims, not broken women, but trees planted by God Himself, growing strong and bearing fruit, "that he might be glorified."

God doesn't waste our ashes. The places where you've grieved most can become places where His beauty shows most clearly. It may take time, like a tree takes time to grow. But He is planting something in you, and it will bring Him glory.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 14

God trades my ashes for beauty. He is growing something in me.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Name one area of grief or heaviness in your life. Today, put on a "garment of praise": play a worship song and sing it as an offering to God.

PRAY

Lord, You know my ashes: the losses, the grief and the heaviness I carry. I give them to You. Trade them for beauty, joy and praise. Plant me deep and grow me strong, so my life brings You glory. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

What "ashes" am I carrying? What beauty might God want to grow from them?

Coming up in Week Three: Chosen & Sent

WEEK THREE

Chosen & Sent

God heals your identity, and He also gives your life a purpose. This week is about being chosen, gifted and sent, and about the new name He has written just for you.

DAYS 15–21

WEEK THREE Day 15 / 21

Chosen

Remember being picked last for a team? Some of us have felt picked last our whole lives.

> But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:
> 1 PETER 2:9 · KJV

Peter wrote to believers who were scattered, persecuted and treated as outsiders. They didn't feel important. So Peter gave them four new names: "a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people."

Chosen means God picked you on purpose. Royal priesthood means you have direct access to God and a role in representing Him. Holy nation means set apart for Him. Peculiar people means a people for His own possession, His treasured belonging.

Notice why He chose us: "that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light." Being chosen doesn't make us better than others; it means we are called out of darkness and invited to shine His light.

The next verse says, "Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God" (2:10). Whoever you were before, whoever overlooked you, you are now chosen by the King of kings. You were picked on purpose.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 15

I am chosen on purpose, called out of darkness into His light.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Read 1 Peter 2:9 out loud three times, emphasizing a different word each time. Then do one thing today that "shows forth His praises" to someone else.

PRAY

Father, thank You for choosing me. Where I've felt rejected or picked last, let Your choice speak louder. Help me live as Your treasured possession, and let my life show forth Your praises to the people around me. In Jesus' name, amen.

JOURNAL

Where have I felt unchosen or rejected? How does it feel to hear God say, "You are chosen"?

Tomorrow You were also made for something. Tomorrow Paul uses a word that describes a masterpiece.

WEEK THREE Day 16 / 21

His Workmanship

Grace saves you for free. Then it hands you a calling.

> For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.
> EPHESIANS 2:10 · KJV

Just before this verse, Paul makes it clear that we are saved "by grace … through faith" and "not of works" (2:8–9). You can't earn God's love. But verse 10 tells us what grace does next: it makes us into something and sends us out to do something.

"We are his workmanship." The Greek word is poiema, from which we get the word poem. It describes something carefully crafted, a work of art. You are God's handiwork, made with intention, not mass-produced.

"Created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained." Before you were born, God prepared good works for you to walk in. Not to earn His love, but because you already have it. Your gifts, your story and even your scars can be used in ways no one else's can.

Your good works may not look impressive to the world: raising children, encouraging a coworker, serving at church, caring for an aging parent, creating something beautiful. If God prepared it for you, it matters. Ask Him today, "What did You make me for?"

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 16

I am God's masterpiece, created for good works He prepared for me.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Ask a trusted friend: "What do you see God doing through me?" Write down what they say, and look for one good work to walk in this week.

PRAY

Lord, thank You that I am Your workmanship, crafted with care. Show me the good works You prepared for me. Help me walk in them with joy, not to earn Your love, but because I'm already loved. Use my gifts and even my scars for Your glory. Amen.

Tomorrow A young woman with a hidden identity was placed in a palace for a reason she didn't understand, until a crisis came.

WEEK THREE Day 17 / 21

For Such a Time as This

She was an orphan who became a queen. But her crown came with a choice that could cost her life.

> For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?
> ESTHER 4:14 · KJV

Esther was a Jewish orphan raised by her cousin Mordecai in Persia. Through a series of surprising events, she became queen, while keeping her heritage hidden. Then a powerful official named Haman plotted to destroy all the Jews in the empire.

Mordecai urged Esther to go to the king and plead for her people. But approaching the king uninvited could mean death. Mordecai's answer is one of the most famous lines in the Bible: "who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Esther asked her people to fast with her for three days, then said, "so will I go in unto the king … and if I perish, I perish" (4:16). She went, the king received her, and God used her to save her people.

God's name never appears in the book of Esther, yet His hand is on every page. Your story may feel ordinary, and God may feel hidden, but there may be someone, somewhere, who needs you to speak up or step out. You were placed here for such a time as this.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 17

I am where I am for a reason. God placed me here for such a time as this.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Think of one situation where you've been staying silent. Pray about it today, and ask God for courage to take one step.

PRAY

Lord, even when You seem hidden, You are working. Show me why You've placed me where I am. Give me Esther's courage to speak up and step out when it matters, trusting You with the outcome. In Jesus' name, amen.

Tomorrow She prayed so intensely that the priest thought she was drunk. Tomorrow we learn from a woman who poured out her heart to God.

WEEK THREE Day 18 / 21

Pour Out Your Heart

Year after year, she watched other women hold their babies. Year after year, someone made sure she felt it.

> And Hannah answered and said, No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit: I have drunken neither wine nor strong drink, but have poured out my soul before the LORD.
> 1 SAMUEL 1:15 · KJV

Hannah longed for a child, but she had none. Her husband's other wife, Peninnah, had many children and "provoked her sore, for to make her fret" (1:6). Every year at the house of the Lord, the wound was reopened. Hannah wept and could not eat.

One year she went to the tabernacle and prayed so deeply that her lips moved but no sound came out. Eli the priest assumed she was drunk. Hannah answered honestly: "I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit … but have poured out my soul before the LORD."

Hannah didn't pretend to be fine or clean up her prayer; she poured out her whole soul. And after Eli blessed her, "her countenance was no more sad" (1:18), even before her prayer was answered. Something changed when she gave her pain to God.

God did give Hannah a son, Samuel, who became one of Israel's greatest prophets. But her identity was not "the woman without a child" or "the woman who finally had one." It was a woman who knew where to take her sorrow. You can pour out your soul too. He can hold all of it.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 18

I don't have to hide my sorrow. I can pour out my soul to God.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write an honest, unfiltered prayer about your deepest longing or sorrow. Don't edit it. Pour it out.

PRAY

Lord, You know the ache I carry and the people who make it worse. I don't want to pretend anymore. I pour out my soul before You. Hold my sorrow, lift my countenance, and do what only You can do. In Jesus' name, amen.

What longing or sorrow have I been holding back from God? What would it look like to pour it all out?

Tomorrow The disciples called her gift a waste. Jesus said it would be remembered forever. Tomorrow we meet a woman who did what she could.

WEEK THREE Day 19 / 21

She Did What She Could

Some people think they need to do something big for God to matter. This woman did one thing with what she had.

> She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying. Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
> MARK 14:8–9 · KJV

Days before the cross, Jesus was at dinner in Bethany when a woman broke an alabaster box of very expensive ointment and poured it on His head. Some of the people there were indignant: "Why was this waste of the ointment made?" (14:4). It could have been sold for a year's wages.

Jesus defended her: "Let her alone … she hath wrought a good work on me" (14:6). While others were arguing, she was paying attention. She seemed to understand what the disciples didn't: Jesus was about to die. Her gift was an act of love and preparation.

"She hath done what she could." Jesus didn't measure her gift by what she couldn't do. He honored what she did with what she had. And He promised that wherever the gospel was preached, her story would be told. And here we are, telling it.

You don't have to do everything, or what someone else does. You only have to do what you can, with what you have, out of love for Jesus. To Him, nothing given in love is ever wasted.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 19

Jesus honors what I can do. Nothing given in love is wasted.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Ask: "What do I have in my hands?" (time, a skill, a meal, a word). Offer one of them to Jesus today through serving someone.

PRAY

Jesus, I often feel I don't have enough to offer. Thank You that You see what I can do and call it beautiful. I pour out what I have for You today. Let my love for You be extravagant, no matter what others think. Amen.

JOURNAL

Tomorrow She was the first person to see the risen Jesus. Tomorrow we hear Him speak one word that changed everything: her name.

WEEK THREE Day 20 / 21

Called by Name

She went to the tomb to grieve a dead friend. She left as the first witness of the resurrection.

> Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master. Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.
> JOHN 20:16–17 · KJV

Mary Magdalene had been set free by Jesus from "seven devils" (Luke 8:2). She followed Him, supported His ministry and stood near the cross when most others had fled. On the third day, she went to the tomb early in the morning, while it was still dark, and found it empty.

She was weeping outside the tomb when she saw a man she thought was the gardener. "Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him" (20:15). Then He spoke one word: "Mary." And in that one word, spoken the way only He said it, she knew Him.

Jesus said, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them" (John 10:27). He knows your name too, and He speaks it with the same love. When grief, shame or confusion cloud your eyes, His voice saying your name can turn everything around.

Then Jesus gave Mary a mission: "go to my brethren." A woman once tormented by darkness became the first messenger of the resurrection. Jesus calls you by name, and then He sends you. Your story of being found is meant to be told.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 20

Jesus knows my name, and He sends me to tell what I've seen.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Write your name at the top of a page, then write what you think Jesus' voice sounds like when He says it. Share one thing He's done for you with someone today.

PRAY

Jesus, thank You for knowing my name. When I'm weeping and confused, let me hear Your voice. Turn me around like You turned Mary. And send me, the way You sent her, to tell others that You are alive. Amen.

Tomorrow Tomorrow is our last day. We'll read about a white stone and a secret name that only you and God will know.

WEEK THREE Day 21 / 21

A New Name

You've spent 21 days hearing what God calls you. Today He promises a name no one else has ever heard.

> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.
> REVELATION 2:17 · KJV

In Revelation 2, the risen Jesus speaks to a struggling church in Pergamos. To those who stay faithful, He makes a mysterious promise: "a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it."

In the ancient world, a white stone could mean a few things: a token of acquittal from a court, or an invitation to a special feast. Either way, it was personal. And the name on it is new and private, known only to the one who receives it and the One who gives it.

All through Scripture, God renames people: Abram becomes Abraham, Sarai becomes Sarah, Jacob becomes Israel, Simon becomes Peter. And God promised His people, "thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name" (Isaiah 62:2). A new name means a new identity, given by Him.

Over these 21 days, you've heard Him call you made in His image, seen, remembered, daughter, forgiven, free, new, chosen, His workmanship and sent. And one day He will give you a name that is yours alone. Until then, live as the woman He says you are. You are named by God.

TRUTH TO HOLD · DAY 21

God has a name for me that no one can take away. I am His.

PRACTICE FOR TODAY

Look back over these 21 days and choose the one name or truth that meant the most to you. Write it on a small stone or card and keep it where you'll see it.

PRAY

Jesus, thank You for every name You've spoken over me. Let Your voice be louder than every old label. Help me overcome and stay faithful, and one day give me the white stone with my new name. Until then, I'm Yours. Amen.
